Lord Ismay, Secretary General of NATO, announced today that contracts have been signed for the manufacture in Europe of more than 550 million dollar's worth of combat aircraft for the Allied Forces. The United States government today signed off-shore procurement contracts for military aircraft to the total of 281,540,000 dollars with Belgium, France, The Netherlands and the United Kingdom. Here representatives of the various countries await their turn to sign the contracts.
