Gentlemen,

Some time ago this Legation took up with the War Shipping Administration the claim of Captain Jon Axel Petursson for the salvage of the S.S. Winona which stranded near Byggardur, Iceland, on April 8, 1942.

The War Shipping Administration has now returned to us the documents pertaining to this case. As you will see from the enclosed copy of their letter dated June 28th 1946, they state that the vessel at the time of the stranding was owned by your company and was under time charter to the War Shipping Administration and that, under these circumstances, any salvage made necessary by the stranding of the vessel should be for the account of the owner.

It seems only fair that Captain Petursson should be rewarded for his excellent work in avoiding wreckage of the vessel, S. S. Winona. It would, therefore, be appreciated if you would inform this Legation at your early convenience whether you or your insurance company are prepared to remunerate Captain Petursson for his services.

Yours very truly,

Magnus V. Magnusson
First Secretary
